AI INCOME BOOT CAMP

Last Updated: September 11, 2026

Welcome to AI Income Boot Camp (the “Boot Camp,” “Course,” “we,” “us,” or “our”), a live educational program operated by Sohaib Chaudhry. These Terms & Conditions (“Terms”) govern your purchase of, access to, and participation in our live training, community, digital materials, support, and related services.

By enrolling in, paying for, accessing, or participating in AI Income Boot Camp, you confirm that you have read, understood, and agreed to these Terms. If you do not agree, you should not enroll or participate.

Important: AI Income Boot Camp is an educational program. We teach practical AI systems, outreach, sales, client acquisition, and delivery methods, but we do not guarantee income, clients, sales, employment, or any specific business result.

1. Eligibility

To enroll in or participate in the Boot Camp, you must:

- Be at least 18 years of age, or participate with the consent and supervision of a parent or legal guardian.
- Provide accurate and complete registration and contact information.
- Comply with applicable laws, these Terms, and any reasonable rules communicated during the Boot Camp.

2. Live Course Format and Access

AI Income Boot Camp is primarily a live training program. Your enrollment gives you access to the live sessions, Q&A, practical training, materials, and bonuses that are specifically included in the offer or plan you purchased.

Unless we clearly state otherwise in writing, enrollment does not guarantee lifetime access, lifetime mentorship, unlimited one-on-one support, or permanent access to recordings.

If session recordings, templates, community access, or bonus materials are provided, they are made available according to the terms announced for your specific cohort and may be changed, replaced, or discontinued where reasonably necessary.

3. Attendance, Participation, and Schedule

Because the Boot Camp is live, you are responsible for attending sessions at the announced dates and times and for keeping track of schedule updates shared through the official communication channels.

- Missing a live session does not create a right to a refund, credit, transfer, or replacement session.
- We may make reasonable changes to session dates, times, instructors, curriculum order, platforms, or delivery format when necessary.

- If recordings are provided, they are a convenience only and are not a substitute for active participation unless we expressly state otherwise.
- Individual support or mentorship is available only to the extent included in your purchased plan.

4. Payments

All prices are displayed in the applicable currency communicated at checkout or enrollment. By purchasing the Boot Camp, you authorize the applicable payment method or processor to charge the stated amount.

You are responsible for any bank charges, payment-provider fees, taxes, duties, currency-conversion charges, or similar costs that may apply to your transaction.

5. No-Refund Policy - All Sales Final

All purchases and enrollment fees are final and non-refundable, except where a refund is required by a non-waivable provision of applicable law.

Because seats, live instruction, cohort capacity, digital resources, training time, and support are allocated once you enroll, we do not provide refunds based on personal circumstances or dissatisfaction with outcomes.

Without limitation, refunds will not be issued because you:

- Change your mind after payment.
- Miss, skip, or are unable to attend live sessions.
- Do not complete the training or stop participating.
- Do not implement the strategies, assignments, outreach, follow-ups, or recommended volume of work.
- Do not obtain clients, sales, income, employment, leads, meetings, or other desired results.
- Find the work more difficult or time-consuming than expected.
- Experience personal scheduling conflicts, lack of time, internet/device issues on your side, or changes in personal circumstances.
- Already know some of the material or decide that the Boot Camp is no longer suitable for you.

By enrolling, you acknowledge and accept this no-refund policy before payment.

6. Participant Responsibility and Required Implementation

We will make a good-faith effort to teach the Boot Camp curriculum, demonstrate the relevant systems and processes, answer questions within the scope of the program, and provide the training included in your enrollment.

However, your results depend heavily on your own execution. You are responsible for practicing the skills, completing the work, following the recommended process, communicating professionally, and consistently performing the level of outreach, follow-up, demos, sales activity, and delivery work required for your goals.

Simply attending sessions or purchasing the Boot Camp does not produce results by itself. You should not expect overnight success, immediate clients, or rapid income without sustained implementation and improvement.

7. Earnings, Client, and Results Disclaimer

AI Income Boot Camp is educational and informational in nature. We do not guarantee that you will earn any specific amount of money, acquire any number of clients, close deals, receive job offers, recover your course fee, or achieve any particular business outcome.

Any revenue examples, client outcomes, screenshots, testimonials, demonstrations, case studies, or statements about potential opportunities are provided for illustration only. They are not promises of typical, expected, or guaranteed results.

Results vary from person to person and can depend on factors including skill level, communication, offer quality, niche selection, market demand, pricing, outreach volume, consistency, follow-up, sales ability, client delivery, competition, economic conditions, and execution.

You remain solely responsible for your business decisions, actions, expenses, and outcomes.

8. Curriculum and Course Changes

AI tools, platforms, market conditions, and business practices change quickly. We may update, replace, remove, reorganize, or add lessons, tools, examples, bonuses, or workflows in order to keep the Boot Camp practical and relevant.

Such reasonable curriculum changes do not create a right to a refund.

9. Intellectual Property

All Boot Camp materials, including videos, live-session content, presentations, documents, templates, worksheets, SOPs, prompts, frameworks, scripts, graphics, branding, downloadable files, examples, and other resources, are owned by us or used under license and are protected by applicable intellectual property laws.

Your enrollment gives you a personal, limited, non-exclusive, non-transferable license to use the materials for your own learning and business implementation.

You may not:

- Copy, reproduce, republish, sell, sublicense, or redistribute our paid materials.
- Record live sessions without our written permission.
- Share login details, private group access, recordings, files, or paid resources with non-enrolled persons.
- Upload our content to public or private file-sharing platforms, social channels, course marketplaces, or AI training datasets without permission.
- Create or sell a competing course, membership, training product, or resource that substantially copies our proprietary curriculum or materials.

10. Community and Live-Session Conduct

If you participate in live calls, private groups, communities, or mentorship spaces, you agree to behave professionally and respectfully.

- No harassment, threats, discrimination, abusive behavior, or deliberate disruption.
- No spam, unauthorized promotions, solicitation of members, or misleading claims.
- No sharing of another participant's private information, messages, work, or results without permission.
- No illegal, infringing, fraudulent, or harmful content.

We may remove a participant from sessions, groups, or the Boot Camp for serious or repeated violations. Removal for misconduct or breach of these Terms does not entitle the participant to a refund.

11. Account and Access Security

Any access credentials, links, group invitations, or private materials provided to you are for your personal use. You are responsible for protecting them and for activity carried out through your account or access link.

We may suspend or terminate access if we reasonably believe credentials or paid materials are being shared, resold, abused, or used fraudulently.

12. Acceptable Use

You agree not to use the Boot Camp, website, community, materials, or systems to violate applicable law, commit fraud, impersonate others, infringe intellectual property, send unlawful spam, distribute malware, gain unauthorized access to systems, or engage in deceptive or harmful conduct.

13. Third-Party Tools and Services

The Boot Camp may demonstrate or recommend third-party AI tools, software, hosting platforms, CRMs, communication tools, payment platforms, automation services, or other external services.

Those services are operated by third parties and may have their own pricing, terms, privacy policies, usage limits, availability, or technical requirements. We do not control and are not responsible for third-party changes, outages, fees, account suspensions, data practices, or service decisions.

Any third-party costs required for your own projects or client work are your responsibility unless we expressly state otherwise.

14. No Professional Advice

The Boot Camp provides education and practical business training. Nothing in the Boot Camp should be treated as legal, tax, accounting, investment, financial, employment, or other regulated professional advice.

You should consult an appropriately qualified professional when advice in those areas is required for your circumstances.

15. Privacy and Personal Information

We may collect information reasonably necessary to operate the Boot Camp, such as your name, email address, phone or WhatsApp number, payment/enrollment status, submitted questions, support messages, and community interactions.

We may use this information to process enrollment, communicate course updates, provide access and support, administer the community, prevent abuse, improve the program, and comply with legal obligations.

Payments may be processed through third-party providers. We generally do not control those providers' independent data practices, and their own privacy terms may apply.

We will not intentionally sell your private course-participation information to unrelated third parties. We may disclose information where reasonably necessary to service providers assisting us, to protect our rights or users, or where required by law.

16. Limitation of Liability

To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, we will not be liable for indirect, incidental, special, consequential, exemplary, or punitive damages, or for losses relating to revenue, profits, clients, opportunities, reputation, data, business interruption, third-party services, or decisions made based on the Boot Camp.

To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, our total aggregate liability arising from or relating to your purchase or participation will not exceed the amount you actually paid for the applicable Boot Camp enrollment giving rise to the claim.

17. Termination of Access

We may suspend or terminate your access if you materially violate these Terms, unlawfully share or resell course content, abuse participants or staff, engage in fraud, interfere with the program, or misuse our intellectual property or systems.

Termination for breach, misconduct, fraud, or unauthorized sharing does not entitle you to a refund.

18. Governing Law and Disputes

These Terms are intended to be governed by and interpreted in accordance with the applicable laws of Pakistan, except where mandatory consumer or other laws require a different result.

Any dispute arising from these Terms or the Boot Camp will be subject to the jurisdiction of the competent courts in Pakistan, unless applicable law requires otherwise.

19. Changes to These Terms

We may update these Terms from time to time to reflect changes in the Boot Camp, our operations, technology, or legal requirements. The updated version may be posted on our website or otherwise made available with a revised "Last Updated" date.

Your continued use of services after an update takes effect constitutes acceptance of the updated Terms to the extent permitted by applicable law.
